The largest line of School tablets, as well as writing paper tablets in Bloomsburg at Mercer's Drug & Book Store.

The stone work on the tower of the Episcopal Church is completed. The carpenter work and painting are yet to be done. The removal of the trees on either side of the tower shows the latter off to good advantage.

As soon as you discover any falling of the hair or grayness always use Hall's Hair Renewer to tone up the secretions and prevent baldness or grayness.

Do not forget that you can get a nice tablet for a small amount of money at J. H. Mercer's Drug & Book store.

House is giving a full dinner for 25c, including meat, sidedishes, coffee or tea and dessert. Try them, 1st door above Creasy's store, Bloomsburg, Pa.

Miss Patterson desires to form a class in Oil and China painting. Persons wishing instruction in these branches can call upon her at the Presbyterian Manse, to make arrangements and learn terms.

A number of the gentlemen named on both the Democratic and Republican tickets as delegates at large to the constitutional convention, have declared themselves as opposed to the holding of a convention.

We have received a pamphlet entitled "Information and Advice Relating to Patents" from C. A. Snow & Co., the well-known Patent Attorneys of Washington, D. C. It contains directions for procuring patents and the cost of the same in the United States and foreign countries, information about the registration of trade marks, copyrights, caveats, and designs; also abstracts of court decisions in patent cases, and much other matter of interest to inventors, patentees, manufacturers and others interested in patents. It will be mailed free to anyone addressing C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

For stationary of all kinds, and school books of all kinds as well as wall paper and pure drugs at lowest prices go to J. H. Mercer's Drug & Book Store.

Don't forget to try House's 25c meals. They are as good as you pay 50c for at the Hotels.

Husband and Wife.

Have more than once been saved by timely use of Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs, after all other remedies have been tried in vain. The Balsam stops decay of the lungs and cures influenza and acute and chronic coughs. There is no other medicine in the world that acts so promptly, certainly none that does its work so thoroughly as Kemp's Balsam. All druggists sell it. Large bottles 50c.

M. J. Kline of Rohrsburg has the agency for General B. F. Butler's book for Bloomsburg, Scott and Orange township. An advertisement of the book appears in this paper.

All glasses fitted by J. G. Wells, the optician, at his office; or at his optical exhibit on the fair grounds by W. H. Sears will be guaranteed. Any necessary change can be made at Mr. Wells' office after fair week. 6t.

A big bargain in doors and windows, with frames, sash and blinds. Also lot of roof. Also two complete store fronts. Jno. L. Moyer. 8-7-4t.

Many of the older residents of Bloomsburg will be pained to learn of the death of Mrs. Anna R. Drake, who died at the residence of her brother-in-law, Rev. C. C. Parker, at Lower Merion, Pa., aged seventy-five years. She was a daughter of John Barton, and the widow of Thomas W. Drake, M. D. She resided in Bloomsburg for many years, and many of the middle-aged people of this town went to school to her in their youth. She was a faithful member of the Episcopal church. She had numerous relatives in this community. Mrs. Drake's death occurred on Monday last and it was sudden and unexpected. The funeral took place from St. John's church, Lower Merion, on Thursday, and the remains were buried in Laurel Hill Cemetery, Philadelphia.

Sallow and leaden-hued complexions soon give place to the loveliest pink-and-white, when the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla is persisted in, and cosmetics entirely abandoned. Nothing can counterfeit the rosy glow of perfect health, which blesses those who use this medicine.

J. G. Wells' optical exhibit at the fair will be in charge of Mr. W. H. Sears, who is well known.

Mr. Sears is an expert optician, whose work in the Western part of the State, is winning him an enviable reputation. Don't miss this opportunity to have your eyes properly fitted with glasses. 6t.

The following letters are held at the Bloomsburg, Pa., post office and will be sent to the dead letter office Sept. 22, 1891.

Mrs. Maggie Ayers, Mrs. Lucy Crawford, Miss Cetta Cox, Miss Rean Golder, Mr. John P. Hartzel, Miss Lizzie Harris, Mr. C. E. Hagenbuch, Mr. Henry Howert, Mrs. Ada Mitchell Mrs. George Zeltman.

Persons calling for these letters will please say they were advertised Sept. 8, 1891.

One cent will be charged on each letter advertised.

A. B. CATHCART, P. M.

To rise in the morning with a bad taste in the mouth and no appetite, indicates that the stomach needs strengthening. For this purpose, there is nothing better than an occasional dose of Ayer's Pills taken at bed time.

Artistic Advertising. Undoubtedly the Ivory Soap people deserve credit for the best grade of illustrations now being used for advertising purposes. The series of full page drawings which have been appearing on the last page of the Century represent some of the most capable book and magazine artists in the country. The series must have cost no small figure. As yet the "way up" artist do not sign the work they do for advertisers, but I apprehend that it will not be long ere we shall see in the advertising columns such names as George Wharton Edwards, E. W. Kemble, etc. Such men as these bring to their work, besides mere mechanical skill, a trained imagination and artistic conception of things. These qualities, when used in connection with advertisements, command scarcely less interest than when used in the ordinary literary way.—Printer's Ink, Aug. 19, 1891.

The eyesight is the most valuable of our senses. A splendid opportunity to preserve and improve the sight is given during the fair, having your eyes properly fitted with glasses by Wells' and Sears, opticians, either at Mr. Wells' office or his optical exhibit on fair grounds. 6t.

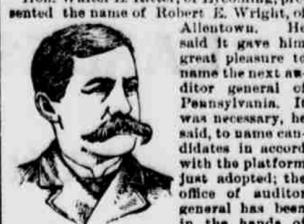

All school books used at the Normal as well as at the Public schools kept at Mercer's Drug & Book store.

CANNOT SEE THRO' A SIEVE. Sancho Panza said it is a blind man who cannot see through a sieve. They are blind, indeed, who fail to recognize impure blood as the origin of the ill that flesh is heir to. Health is not possible with impure blood. Cactus Blood Cure will positively neutralize and carry off all blood poisons, tone the system, strengthen the heart and restore health.

WRIGHT AND TILDEN.

Nominated for Auditor and Treasurer Respectively at Harrisburg. HARRISBURG, Sept. 5.—In the Democratic state convention, after the adoption of the platform and the appointment of the committee to select delegates at large to the constitutional convention, the nomination of candidate for auditor general and state treasurer was next begun.

Hon. Walter E. Ritter, of Lycoming, presented the name of Robert E. Wright, of Allentown. He said it gave him great pleasure to name the next auditor general of Pennsylvania. It was necessary, he said, to name candidates in accord with the platform just adopted; the office of auditor general has been in the hands of the Republican party for a score of years; the demand for a change and reform was overwhelming; than Mr. Wright there was no stancher Democrat in the state; no one can impeach his honesty, no one doubts his ability to carry the Democratic standard to victory. Loud applause and much enthusiasm greeted the mention of Mr. Wright's name. The nomination was seconded by Frank Fitzsimmons, of Lackawanna, who promised a solid Democratic majority from every one of the northeastern counties. George Tille, of Lancaster, nominated James G. McSparran, of Lancaster, who, he said, as a member of the state senate, would give strength to the tickets. D. C. Dewitt, of Bradford, seconded the nomination.

Wright and Tilden Nominated. The nominations closed and balloting was begun. The vote resulted: Wright, 872; McSparran, 90; not voting, 9. Mr. Hill, who had nominated McSparran, moved that Mr. Wright's nomination be made unanimous, and the motion was carried amid much cheering.

Nominations for state treasurer were begun. R. H. Arbuckle, of Erie, named A. L. Tilden, of Erie. His speech was short and to the point. He said Mr. Tilden was a man of spotless reputation and a man on whom all interests could and would unite. J. N. Dunbar, of Crawford, seconded the nomination. Dr. John W. Hiewalt, of Dauphin, named Charles W. Raymond, of Middletown, a man, he said, well fitted by reason of his ability as a financier to perform the duties of state treasurer. Hon. W. Rush Gillan, of Franklin county, seconded the nomination of Mr. Raymond.

As before, there were only two candidates. The vote resulted: Tilden, 394; Raymond, 5; McSparran, 1; total, 400. The nomination of Tilden was made unanimous.

The Recognition of Child. WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The department of state telegraphed to Minister Egau on Sept. 4 that if a government acceptable to the people had been formed by the Congressional party he should recognize it. The department has received a telegram from Mr. Egau stating that a provisional government had been established on the 4th inst., with Jorge Montt as president, and was universally accepted by the people, and that he (Mr. Egau) was in very cordial communication with it.

To Prosecute the Appraisers. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—After a long consultation with City Treasurer Wright, District Attorney Graham advised that criminal proceedings be entered against the mercantile appraisers. Auditor General McCannan has suspended from office all the members of the board of mercantile appraisers. City Treasurer Wright concurred in the suspension, but said the order should be one of dismissal.

Editor McKean Retires. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—Mr. William V. McKean, for more than twenty-six years managing editor of The Public Ledger, has retired. L. Clarke Davis succeeds him. Mr. McKean will continue on the staff of The Ledger at full pay and will write occasional editorials. The announcement is made that Mr. George W. Childs will himself hereafter be editor-in-chief.

The Pope's Illness. ROME, Sept. 5.—The pope is believed to be quite dangerously ill. The Capitan Francesca announces that the pope on Wednesday last was attacked by an acute visceral derangement, and that the physicians insist that he must take absolute rest.

Heads of More and Raleigh.

When the wise and witty Sir Thomas More was beheaded, his head was stuck on a pole on London Bridge, where it was exposed for 14 days, much to the grief of his daughter, Margaret Roper, who resolved to secure it. "One day," says Aubrey, "as she was passing under the bridge, looking at her father's head, she exclaimed: 'That head has lain many a time in my lap; would to God it would fall into my lap as I pass under!' She had her wish, and it did fall into her lap." Probably she had bribed one of the keepers of the bridge to throw it over just as the boat approached, and the exclamation was intended to avert the suspicion of the boatmen. At all events, she got possession of it, and preserved it with great care in a leaden casket until her death, and it is now inclosed in a niche in the wall of her tomb in St. Dunstan's church, Canterbury.

Sir Walter Raleigh's head, in a red bag, was carried to his wife, who caused it to be embalmed and kept it with her all her life, permitting favored friends, like Bishop Goodman, to see and even to kiss it. His son, Carew Raleigh, afterward preserved it with similar piety. It is supposed now to rest in the Church of West Horsley, Surrey.

Between Two Fires. There is such a thing as being too obliging. When Commodore Billings and Mr. Main were on the river Kahima they had for attendant a young man from Kanoga, an island between Kamshatka and North America. One day Mr. Main asked him, "What will the savages do to me if I fall into their power?" "Sir," said the youth, "you will never fall into their power if I remain with you. I always carry a sharp knife, and if I see you pursued and unable to escape I will plunge my knife into your heart; then the savages can do nothing to you."

This recalls the words of the French knight reported by Joinville: "Swear to me," said Queen Margaret, "that if the Saracens become masters of Damietta you will cut off my head before they can take me." "Willingly," returned the knight; "I had already thought of doing so if the contingency arrived."

Merit Measured By Success. The wonderful popularity of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) is the natural result of the tests to which the public has put it. The merits of the medicine have remained the same, but the knowledge of the people with respect to its remarkable curative properties has increased until now there is a demand for it wherever the English language is spoken. S. S. S. was first offered as a specific for contagious blood poison. For that it was, and is, truly a specific for all forms of blood disease. Whole columns could be filled with testimonials to this effect.

A handsome monument has been erected in Rosemont cemetery to the memory of Mrs. Mary Appelman Unangst, by her husband, Char. Unangst, Esq.
